

TxOpioidResponse.org

Common Opioids and Stimulants

Opioids

- Heroin
- Fentanyl
- Nitazenes
- Morphine
- Codeine
- Oxycodone
- Hydrocodone

Stimulants

- Nicotine
- Ecstasy/molly (MDMA)
- Cocaine
- Methamphetamine
- Medications for Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)

Understanding Youth Substance Use and How You Can Help

Despite common misconceptions, most youth and young adults are not using substances.ⁱ This includes the use of cannabis, alcohol, nicotine and tobacco products, stimulants and other drugs.

For some young people, substance use becomes a way to cope with difficult emotions like stress, anxiety or sadness, or to manage the pressures of school, work or social life. Curiosity, peer influence and easy access can also contribute. For youth who have faced household instability or harmful experiences in childhood, the risk of substance use is often higher.ⁱⁱ

Any drug someone takes that isn't prescribed to them can be dangerous. Substances shared among friends or relatives, or obtained outside a pharmacy, may be mixed with other substances or may not be what they seem. This includes cannabis and pills, which may be fake or contain something unexpected.

The more we understand what drives substance use, the better equipped we are to support young people in making safer choices and seeking help when they need it.

988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline

Call or text 9-8-8 anytime for support. | 988LifeLine.org

TEXAS
Health and Human Services

*Texas Targeted
Opioid Response*

This project is supported by Texas Targeted Opioid Response, a public health initiative operated by the Texas Health and Human Services Commission through federal funding from the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration grant award.

Ways to Support Someone You Care About

Encouraging healthy coping skills can make a real difference. Remind the young people in your life that caring for their body and mind — through sleep, balanced meals, physical activity and supportive relationships — can help them manage stress and feel better over time.

If you're worried about someone, check in with them and listen without judgment. Let them know they're not alone and that it's OK to reach out when they need support. You don't need to have all the answers. Sometimes just listening helps more than you may realize. Encourage them to reach out to a counselor, health care provider or local support resource, or help them make that connection.

Explore trusted programs and tools to help you start conversations about substance use, understand what puts youth at risk and guide them toward healthier choices.

- Naloxone Distribution Interactive Map

To locate free naloxone in your area, visit bit.ly/NaloxoneFinderTx.

- Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration

For free resources to help you and your community prevent substance use, visit Samhsa.gov/Substance-Use/Prevention/Substance-Use-Disorders.

- Texas Targeted Opioid Response

For Texas-based prevention, treatment and recovery resources, visit TxOpioidResponse.org.

- Turn To

For prevention information, support and resources for yourself or someone you care about, visit TurnToSupportsTx.org.

- U.S. Food and Drug Administration

For free tools for teachers, students and parents on vaping prevention and education, visit Digitalmedia.hhs.gov/tobacco/educator_hub.

Find Treatment

It's not always easy to know how to help someone, but you don't have to figure it out alone. Trained professionals who support people with substance use and mental health concerns are ready to help.

Texas Health and Human Services

bit.ly/SubstanceUseServicesTX

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration National Helpline

800-662-HELP (800-662-4357)

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration Find Support

Samhsa.gov/Find-Support

Support to Quit Tobacco or Vaping

These free, evidence-based programs offer tools, coaching and real support to make quitting easier:

EX Program

Text VAPEFREETX to 88709

EXProgram.com

My Life My Quit

Tx.MyLifeMyQuit.org

Smokefree Teen

Teen.SmokeFree.gov/Quit-Vaping

Texas Tobacco Quitline

Call 877-YES-QUIT (877-937-7848)

YesQuit.org